CORONER F. H. BROWN AT WESTERLY

Examines Dwight Miner, Held at Pawcatuck-Lad Maintains Shooting of Brother Herbert was Accidental-Will be Given Hearing Today . Before Justice Chapman at North Stonington.

White Dr. Scanlen was motoring to the location of the Miner fatal shooting bridgy he was held up when within two miles of the place by a country lad who wanted a "lift" to the Miner place. After proceeding a short distance a large gray squirral crossed the road in front of the automobile. The last exclaimed: "Sign of bad luck, Doo, that squirrel went to the left of the road." Within two minutes thereafter that squirrel went to the left of the road." Within two minutes thereafter there was a loud report like that of the discharge of a revolver. One of the forward tires had punctured. Immediately the lad gleefully shouted: "There, Doc, didn't I tell you so? There's the had luck, never knew the squirrel sign to fail." Dr. Scanion muttered something in an undertone, referred to the lad as a picture of bad luck, and then said: "Three miles to the Miner place and eleven miles back to Westerly on a fiat tire." He had started on the mission hurriesily and had no spare covering for the inner tube. Aside from the loss of time and practice, the doctor was out just $24.95, and with but slight prospect of any roturn.

Supposing that the "fooling" had ended. Dwight says he reloaded the revolver. Pive minutes later the "fooling" was resumed and the fatal shot was fired.

Coroner Brawn informed Dwight Miner that he was not obliged to make any statement unless he so desired, explaining that he was not obliged to make any statement unless he so desired, explaining that he was the coroner and that whatever Dwight said would be a part of the record in the case. Dwight said he had nothing to keep back, had teld all he had to may to Dr. Scanion, but had no objection to giving the coroner all the information he could. He then taid the story practically as reported in The Bulletin Saturday.

Coroner Brown decided to hold young Miner for a hearing before Justice Miner for a hearing before Justice Chapman in North Stenington this Mondays morning Sheriff Casey took charge of Miner and held him in the awcatusk lockup. He wil he taken om there to North Stonington.

Mr. Editor: I do not like what Mr C. H. Talcott has to say about wed-dings and wedding outfits. If he's an old tackelor who is fishing for a leap year proposal, you tell him he will learn more about brides and grooms At the morning service of the Broad street Christian church resolutions on the death of Rev. Thomas S. Weeks, a former pastor, were unanimously later on. He should know that the groom doesn't sit on the coach-box. The groom is the man who takes care of the horses in the stable; it is the coachman who sits on the box, and holds the reins and the whip. Hesides, it would not be good form to have two grooms at one wedding. We the bride's going-away robing, which, of course, she has paid for, and not the groom; but doesn't he know that the bride and groom have just been made one, and that that one is just as proud to be noticed by the press as our lawyers, bankers and merchants are?—all men, too. The few handfuls of rice he mentions, and the old slipor rice in mentions, and the old slip-per thrown after the coach are not wasted. They have their meaning. Rice is a good clean esculent and productive grain, a prophecy for the newly wedded, and, to be sure, tspit the slipper a type of discipline? Where has only 6.1.

An Amendment Suggested.

Mr. Editor: I read in your paper the remarks of his honor, the mayor, at the hoard of trade banquet, on "Business With Politics Eliminated," and noted what he had to say about leaving the democratic and republican end out and to get fiext to him and his executive committee, as we were spending $1,000,000, and it would be poor palicy to change the board of di-

I was more than surprised to read what he said in regard to Stony brook, that we need not worry any more, as we would have plenty of water from that scurce. Quite a change of sentiment in a few short morths (but you nover can tell just how the spring fever and board of trade banquet will affect one).

I was coming down Broadway the other day, and observed in a stone yard, granite tablets, with the names of our mayor and other officials connected with the water department enproted with the water department engraved thereon (I presume to be placed in some conspicuous place at Stony brook dam). As I stood there reading the names, which are to be handed down to posterity, the thought came to me: Would it not be nice to add, "Erected by the citizens of Norwich, under the leadership of William H. Shields in city meeting convened."
